

MONROE COUNTY
PTOC OVERVIEW

IV-D SAFE PARENTING PROGRAM

SUMMARY

- Collaboration
- Flexibility
- The New Norm

COLLABORATION: FROM THE BEGINNING

- Solicit Input
- Get Letters of Support
- Follow Up

COLLABORATION: SHARED RESPONSIBILITY

- If other agencies and individuals helped you develop the approach, they share values & ideas
- They will want the processes to be implemented and continue
- They will want it to continue, free from struggle and strain

COLLABORATION: NURTURE RELATIONSHIPS

- Check in
- Ask about their other projects
- Provide updates on your grant process

COLLABORATION:
IV-D SAFE PARENTING PROGRAM

- Developed the process with local DV and law school, and got other key players on board
- Ripple Effect: Each of those partners reached out to their collaborators
- Continues to involve our grant partners

FLEXIBILITY:
OPEN TO CHANGE

- Be open to implementing a different version
- Community's best interest
- Keep a good thing going

FLEXIBILITY:
IV-D SAFE PARENTING PROGRAM

- After Award solicited more detailed feedback from Collaborators (and anyone that would listen)
- Informed funders of process changes
 - Different Providers
 - Altered Processes
- Kept in mind we had learning curve and doing something new

THE NEW NORM:
MAKE IT INGRAINED

- Create new habits
- Build it into routines and forms that will exist on
- Ensure that policy and practice innovations are institutionalized
- Begin using a new language

THE NEW NORM:
IV-D SAFE PARENTING PROGRAM

- Trained staff
- Created new processes and routines
- Implemented new forms for basic processes
